Suicide is sometimes thought of as an internal problem someone must have been dealing with. Yet today, more than ever, we have begun to see the external toll & radius of impact that it has. Suicide surrounds friends, families, communities, schools, industries, countries, and our world... EVERY 40 SECONDS.

After his father's shocking suicide, Jackson (Booboo Stewart) begins a search for the truth behind the devastating decision his father made. A violent outburst at school crosses his path with a counselor, Eric (Kevin Sorbo) who wants to help Jackson deal with his grief, and Sophie (Rebeca Robles,) a girl with a troubled past of her own.

With Sophie's assistance, Jackson travels down a twisting road leading to a decades-old secret that could destroy him. As Eric's guidance falls on deaf ears, Jackson's quest for answers is only breeding more questions. Will he be doomed to repeat the same cycle, or will he choose to journey forward and find hope for his future?

The movie stars Kevin Sorbo (Hercules, Andromeda, Soul Surfer, God's Not Dead), BooBoo Stewart (Twilight Saga: Eclipse, Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn Part 1& Part 2, X-Men: Days of Future Past) and features music by KingsFoil and Fivel Stewart. The movie also stars Sam Jenkins (Author, Talk Radio Host, & the Wife of Kevin Sorbo).

The Hope Bridge Trailer has been shared over 1,000,000 times, reaching more than 1,000,000 people on Facebook and Twitter.

The Hope Bridge Movement HAS begun. Yet it actually began WAY before "Action" was called to roll film. It was quiet; but it was movement. Not a movement for change but a movement that caused change. It involved last breaths and discreet living rooms of those suffering in silence with the loss of precious life by suicide. One by one, families and friends felt this movement and in the blink of an eye...lives drastically changed.

When you have been hit by lightning, you most likely won't want to stand in that same place again. But where you choose to stand is a decision that you make. Today we have chosen NOT to stand against the wall and watch more lives lost. We have chosen to move. We have thrown something bigger than ourselves against that wall and guess what? IT STUCK. Hope Bridge Movie is the movement to escalate the volume of voices and lower the loss of life to this wretched monster. It's time to seek closure with this senseless tragedy and extend our hands of hope to those hurting and struggling. One more life lost is just one too many.

As humans, we have the ability to change what we perceive. So join with us and start perceiving that hope does exist & together all of us can make suicide extinct, rather than the other way around.

It's Time to Speak Up for Life to Save Lives.

CROSSING THAT BRIDGE

*Crossing That Bridge is just the book people have been looking for when it comes to comprehending the emotional sides of suicide. Get ready to dive into increasing prevention and promoting awareness in your own circle of influence-it will be the key that just might save the life of someone you know!"

-Dr. Paul Keck, president & CEO, The Lindner Center of Hope, University of Cincinnati College of Medicine

Hope in the Crossing is a 4 week study kit for youth and adult groups including a study guide, Hope Bridge DVD and Crossing That Bridge Book. This study has the ability to break the silence and save lives by building open and safe communication for suicide prevention in your communities, schools, churches, and neighborhoods.

Christine Eaton is a leading advocate and speaker for suicide awareness and prevention. With her husband, David, she founded Infuse Pictures to help spread their message of hope and healing through films such as Hope Bridge.

T. Mitchell Anthony, founder of Reasons2Live.org and author of 7 Reasons to Keep on Living and Suicide: Knowing When Your Teen Is at Risk, has been providing suicide education for 30 years. With Crossing That Bridge, Christine and Mitch show their tireless, compassionate drive to heighten awareness and save lives. Compelling and eye-opening, this uplifting book catapults the reader to a new level of understanding regarding the stigmas surrounding this subject, both for those suffering and the survivors."

-Sam Sorbo, actress, author, and Top National Radio Show Host
